

Websites for Further Research

Women's Education

- <http://www.un.org/en/globalissues/women/> — The UN page on women provides a general overview of actions that have already been taken, with links to specific articles and charters.
- <http://www.worlded.org/WEInternet/gwe/index.cfm> — “Girl’s and Women’s Education Initiative” explores education as a tool to utilize the potential of females, leading them to act in their community.
- <http://nces.ed.gov/pubs/96768.pdf> — “The Educational Progress of Women” is compiled by the US National Center for Education Statistics and includes in-depth comparison of male and female education.
- <http://www.worldbank.org/education/girls> — Powered by the World Bank, this website centers on the Millennium Development Goals, highlighting many aspects of women’s education.
- <http://us.camfed.org> — CAMFED USA is an organization dedicated to improving girls’ education. The website focuses specifically on African girls, and provides insight into how education decreases the risk of HIV.
- <http://www.care.org/careswork/whatwedo/education/basic.asp> — CARE, a leading humanitarian organization, emphasizes education for girls in poverty.
- www.developmentgoals.org/About\_the\_goals.htm — This site gives you a first-hand look at how the Millennium Development Goals pertain to the empowerment and advancement of women.
- <http://www.unesco.org/en/efareport/reports/20034-gender/> — The EFA Global Monitoring Report splits the world into regions and focuses on the education of each individually.

- http://www.unicef.org/education/index\_1.php — This section of the UNICEF website discusses the organization's efforts and partnerships to further their mission, dealing with children's education.
- <http://www.unesco.org/en/efareport/reports/2005-quality/> — Explores the importance of access to education, as well as quality of education.
- <http://www.educationfasttrack.org/> — The Education for All Fast Track Initiative website lists all its partner countries and the work that is being done and includes recent news and updates on the FTT's progress.

Pandemics

- <http://www.who.int/entity/en/> — This website explains the World Health Organization's programs, partnerships, and projects
- <http://www.un-influenza.org/> — This website offers detailed information about the UN's response to avian influenza and the pandemic treat.
- <http://www.undg.org/index.cfm?P=21> — This website provides information about the UN's System for Influenza Coordination.
- <http://www.cdc.gov/flu/pandemic/phases.htm> — The Center for Disease Control's website details the various stages of pandemics.
- <http://www.avert.org/aids-history-86.htm> — This website gives a comprehensive history of the AIDS pandemic.
- <http://www.nctm.org/resources/content.aspx?id=10828> — This website provides information on how to minimize the threat of a pandemic.